1. Inside front cover - Editorial Board
   Page CO2
2.  Introductory comments
   Page 627
   John Mullahy
3.  The demand for health, 30 years later: a very personal retrospective and prospective reflection
   Pages 629-636
   Michael Grossman
4.  Health economics and applications in developing countries
   Pages 637-641
   T. Paul Schultz
5.  Sexual capital: an extension of Grossman’s concept of health capital
   Pages 643-652
   Robert T. Michael
6.  Reflections on the socio-economic correlates of health
   Pages 653-661
   Victor R. Fuchs
7.  The demand for health and health concerns after 30 years
   Pages 663-671
   Arleen A. Leibowitz
8.  The effects of a patient shortage on general practitioners’ future income and list of patients
   Pages 673-694
   Tor Iversen
9.  Biases from omitted risk effects in standard gamble utilities
   Pages 695-735
   Robin Pope
10. An economic analysis of life expectancy by gender with application to the United States
    Pages 737-759
    Michael C. M. Leung, Jie Zhang, Junsen Zhang
11. Private medical insurance and saving: evidence from the British Household Panel Survey
    Pages 761-783
    Alessandra Guariglia, Mariacristina Rossi
12. The drug bargaining game: pharmaceutical regulation in Australia
    Pages 785-813
    Donald J. Wright
13. Maternal employment and adolescent risky behavior
    Pages 815-838
    Alison Aughinbaugh, Maury Gittleman
14. Poverty, food insecurity, and nutritional outcomes in children and adults
    Pages 839-862
    Jayanta Bhattacharya, Janet Currie, Steven Haider